

38.04.01 MASTER PROGRAMME IN ECONOMICS

OVERVIEW

Course: International Business

Degree: Master Course Duration – 2 years

Description: The programme is aimed at developing competence necessary to do individual research in accordance with the research plan, to assess the effectiveness of projects taking into consideration uncertainty factor, to formulate the behavior strategy of economic agents, to forecast the key socio-economic indicators of an enterprise's activity.

Programme Department: The programme department is Economic Theory and Applied Economics Department. The department organizes seminars, conferences, summer schools for undergraduates, postgraduate students and young scientists. The teaching staff participate in research work in the framework of internal and external grants.

Teaching Staff. The teaching staff of Economic Theory and Applied Economics Department are highly qualified teachers, who respect the interests of their students and spend much time on their professional development. More than 50% of the teaching staff have done internship abroad and hold international certificates in teaching economic disciplines. The Head of the Master Programme is Litvintseva G.P., Doctor of Economics, Professor, the Head of Economic Theory and Applied Economics Department.

Work-Based Training. Master students have their research and teaching practice in organizations of Novosibirsk and Novosibirsk Region, at the departments of NSTU and other Novosibirsk universities, in the Administration of Novosibirsk Region. The programme gives a good choice of disciplines for in-depth study. Elective courses include Modern forms of international business, Intellectual property management, Projects management, Innovation management.

Employment. Graduates of the educational programme are qualified to work in government agencies at different levels, in private sector, private enterprises and public-private partnership; they can teach and do research.