

Dr. of Technical Sciences, Professor of the Department of Management

Specialist in the field of management, psychology, human resources management, nature management. Practicing business consultant.

Spheres of interests are related with the role of the human factor in the management of organizations and territories on the basis of information systems.